

IMAGINE A WORLD WITHOUT PLANTS

This short video from Arizona Nursery Association will inspire you to PLANT SOMETHING!

FEATURED STUDENT

William Lampman, Class of 2022

While there have been many students throughout the Campus Arboretum's history who have researched and created educational content relating to campus plant collections, few have produced species description that are as exceptional as those created Spring 2020 by William Lampman. Learn more...

FEATURED PLANT

Nandina domestica 'Compacta'

Looking for a plant for a small space? Dwarf heavenly bamboo is a small plant with big impact. It can take the heat of Arizona's summer, tolerate considerable drought, and effortlessly provides year round interest to xeric landscapes with little maintenance. Interestingly, the plant is viewed in some cultures as a symbol of good fortune and a source of protection. Considering our changing climate, perhaps you will agree this lovely and nearly indestructible plant is a lucky find for your landscape - bringing beauty and joy while supporting the environment!
